Desired Licensee Profile:

Jointly produced with the Jim Henson Company, Dinosaur Train encourages pre-schoolers to be inquisitive and use their basic scientific thinking skills to observe and learn about plants and animals in their natural habitat.

The fourth season of Dinosaur Train continues the exploration of Earth Science with particular emphasis on the themes of biodiversity and social diversity, and how both are necessary for a balanced life here on Earth. It shows how in the Mesozoic Era each creature has an important place in the ecosystem and how when one species disappears Mother Nature adapts and readjusts, keeping the delicate balance in the diverse ecosystem.

Ever since its debut on PBS KIDS USA, in September 2009, the series has consistently ranked as one of the top pre-school shows.
